

Grafting Classes

Sponsored by USU Extension

Come learn the basics of fruit tree grafting in this hands-on workshop! Grafting is the age-old practice of joining plants to specific root systems to get the desirable benefits of both parts. In addition to learning the science and techniques of grafting, participants will graft two apple trees on semi-dwarf rootstock that they will take home with them at the end of the class. Participants can select from over 36 heirloom and modern apple varieties supplied. To register for one of the grafting classes, go to the website listed below the class you are interested in attending. Additional rootstocks & scion wood may be available to purchase at the end of the class for an additional $5 fee.

Thursday, April 18

6 - 8 pm

Ogden Botanical Gardens
Ogden, UT

To register, go to Eventbrite.com

Saturday, April 20

11 am - 1 pm

USU Extension Davis
County - Kaysville, UT

To register, go to Eventbrite.com

Monday, April 22

6 - 8 pm

Thanksgiving Point
Lehi, UT

To register, go to Eventbrite.com

Wednesday, April 24

6 - 8 pm

Jordan Valley Water
Conservation Garden
West Jordan, UT

To register, go to Eventbrite.com

Thursday, April 25

6 - 8 pm

Anderson Seed
Logan, UT

To register, contact USU Extension
Cache County office - 435-752-6263

Saturday, April 27

10 am - noon

Freckle Farm Nursery
Logan, UT

To register, go to frecklefarminc.com

Utah State University is an affirmative action/equal opportunity institution.

For more information call the USU Extension office in Box Elder County at 435-695-2541 or email Mike Pace at mike.pace@usu.edu